Program: 領導力研究文憑 Graduate Certificate of Leadership

Course 1: GL5545 轉型領導力的根基 Foundations of Transformational Leadership

This course will present the framework of building holistic leaders, and under this framework, explores the biblical principles for servant leadership including a discussion of the inner life, character of a leader and the process God uses to develop a leader. The course will focus on an understanding of transformation and hopefully assist the student forward in that very process. This transformation will be seen as a key to effective godly leadership in the kingdom of God. In addition, this course will also examine a leader's calling, vision casting abilities, and ability to shepherd people forward in this modeled transformation.

Course 2: GL7547 領袖之內在旅程 The Leader's Inner Journey

The effectiveness of a leader is directly proportionate to his willingness to acquire inner health and transformation, in the context of community. In essence, a leader cannot lead beyond his awareness, authentic transformation and maturity. This course is designed to help the student to take a deeper look toward the goals of self-awareness, Spirit-led discovery, inner health and growth, and to achieve balance of emotional maturity and spiritual maturity in the process. This course also helps the student to discover his unique gifting, to develop it into personal strength, and to find the appropriate platform for application, that he might truly lead a life pleasing to God.

Course 3: GL7549 團隊領導之動力 Dynamics of Team Leadership

This course examines elements contributing to the dysfunctions of a team in the absence of open communication such as: fear of conflict leading to superficial harmony, lack of commitment to the team, avoidance of accountability and inattention to result. On the positive side, this course explores the dynamics of effective team leadership with a focus on developing highly effective teams of interdependent people who choose to cooperate to achieve extraordinary results. Students will learn trust building, embrace productive conflict, peer-to-peer commitment, mutual accountability, and focusing on team result. This course also explores the effect of individual personality on the overall effectiveness of the team.

Course 4: GL6570 異象，使命和組織果效 Vision, Mission and Organizational Effectiveness

The effectiveness of an organization is determined by its well defined mission, clear vision, biblical God-centered core values and effective strategy of implementation. This course will guide the student on a process of fulfilling the organizational mission by combing the ability to interpret culture, define core values and implement a simple uncluttered process to generate the mission, vision and strategy for the given organization. This course will also help the student to see that the desired end result is not produced by the respective programs alone, but rather by the movement through the programs.

Course 5: GL7556 使命式職場事工 Missional Marketplace Ministry

The call for Christians to be salt and light is most pressing in the marketplace where they connect with other people every day. Hence, it is important for the church to reevaluate its discipleship focus in order to meet the real need of its people to act as salt and light in the community. This course is intended to help the student recognize the importance of marketplace ministry and to reclaim the church's role in supporting, training, and commissioning the laity to serve in the marketplace. The purpose is to strengthen business leaders in their calling to the marketplace and to align their work with God's purposes.

Course 6: GL6580 溝通與衝突管理 Communication and Conflict Management

The Gospel is good news of reconciliation with God and men. However, personal conflict is evident in every family, church and work place without exception. The fact is certain amount of conflict is unavoidable, and without skills in conflict resolution, broken relationship would not be healed. This course offers an explanation of the tensions that develop into conflict within an organization, and provides biblical principles on the process of resolving conflict, instead of fueling it. Introductory processes will be studied, in order to equip the student for leading people through constructive conflict, resulting in an opportunity for life transformation.
